Table of requirements
Functional requirements	Nonfunctional requirements
The system publishes the list of available soft skills.	The system does not impose a time limit to complete the activities.
The system recognizes the user's progress.	The progress of the completed activities is not shared between devices.
The system allows access to previously completed content.	The system only allows access to advanced activities until the previous ones are completed
The system categorizes the contents in the corresponding soft skills.
The system locally stores the progress of the user.	